

Building Homes Of Love

Tanya Clark is a 43-year-old woman with developmental disabilities. In so many ways, she's just like you and me. Tanya holds down a job, is active in her church, loves college football, enjoys athletic activities (she's a Special Olympics athlete), and like us she hopes to have a safe and comfortable home throughout her life. But unlike most of us, Tanya's safe place to live is in jeopardy. Her parents are getting older and she has no appropriate place to live. For Tanya, instead of worrying about taking care of her parents as they age, the situation is reversed. Her family is worried about who will help Tanya take care of herself when they just can't do that anymore. InDwellings wants to be there for Tanya – and so many others with developmental disabilities for whom adequate housing is just not available. And to do that, we need your prayers and your support.

Consider making InDwellings a part of your ministry!

"I'm so delighted that there are individuals who care enough to start a ministry such as InDwellings. I've prayed that something would materialize that might be a possibility for Tanya for when I'm no longer around to make sure she is cared for and there now seems to be hope."

-- Diane Grubbs, Tanya's mom.

Building Homes Of Love

Tanya Clark is a 43-year-old woman with developmental disabilities. In so many ways, she's just like you and me. Tanya holds down a job, is active in her church, loves college football, enjoys athletic activities (she's a Special Olympics athlete), and like us she hopes to have a safe and comfortable home throughout her life. But unlike most of us, Tanya's safe place to live is in jeopardy. Her parents are getting older and she has no appropriate place to live. For Tanya, instead of worrying about taking care of her parents as they age, the situation is reversed. Her family is worried about who will help Tanya take care of herself when they just can't do that anymore. InDwellings wants to be there for Tanya – and so many others with developmental disabilities for whom adequate housing is just not available. And to do that, we need your prayers and your support.

Consider making InDwellings a part of your ministry!

"I'm so delighted that there are individuals who care enough to start a ministry such as InDwellings. I've prayed that something would materialize that might be a possibility for Tanya for when I'm no longer around to make sure she is cared for and there now seems to be hope."

-- Diane Grubbs, Tanya's mom.

Consider making InDwellings a part of your ministry!

InDwellings is a ministry of Foothills Presbytery dedicated to building homes for Upstate adults with developmental disabilities. Many of these people and their families have no option for a safe and respectable home when the parents and loved ones of these adult children can no longer care for them. You can help make a difference! InDwellings is asking for your prayers and support in making this dream of independence a reality for the first of its future residents, men and women just like our featured friend Tanya who are waiting to celebrate news of your compassionate and generous support.

Tell Me More ... How Can I Help?

- ❖ InDwellings is currently accepting one-time and annual pledges in its three-year capital campaign, which was launched May 28, 2009, at our build-site.
- ❖ The homes will be constructed in Easley, SC, on 1.1 acres of land adjacent to Presbyterian Communities of SC, which donated the land.
- ❖ Each home will accommodate six residents.
- ❖ The estimated cost of construction for the first two homes is $950,000, our financial goal of the campaign.
- ❖ Construction will begin when InDwellings has received financial contributions totaling 75% of the cost of the first home.
- ❖ The first year's operating expenses (estimated at $212,000) have already been met by current InDwellings funds, and will be supplemented by resident fees, state and federal assistance funds, and charitable contributions.
- ❖ InDwellings is requesting all PC(USA) churches of the Foothills Presbytery to consider a 3-year pledge to this local missions ministry, in addition to support from individual donors across the Upstate, private foundations and governmental grant sources.
- ❖ Commemorative naming opportunities are available.
- ❖ Allen L. Freeman of Freeman and Major Architects has been selected as the architect in collaboration with our builder, Trehel Corp.

If you have any questions or wish to make a contribution or pledge, contact board president Charles Blakely at 864-947-4103, cblakely@hughes.net, or visit the InDwellings website.

Consider making InDwellings a part of your ministry!

InDwellings is a ministry of Foothills Presbytery dedicated to building homes for Upstate adults with developmental disabilities. Many of these people and their families have no option for a safe and respectable home when the parents and loved ones of these adult children can no longer care for them. You can help make a difference! InDwellings is asking for your prayers and support in making this dream of independence a reality for the first of its future residents, men and women just like our featured friend Tanya who are waiting to celebrate news of your compassionate and generous support.

Tell Me More ... How Can I Help?

- ❖ InDwellings is currently accepting one-time and annual pledges in its three-year capital campaign, which was launched May 28, 2009, at our build-site.
- ❖ The homes will be constructed in Easley, SC, on 1.1 acres of land adjacent to Presbyterian Communities of SC, which donated the land.
- ❖ Each home will accommodate six residents.
- ❖ The estimated cost of construction for the first two homes is $950,000, our financial goal of the campaign.
- ❖ Construction will begin when InDwellings has received financial contributions totaling 75% of the cost of the first home.
- ❖ The first year's operating expenses (estimated at $212,000) have already been met by current InDwellings funds, and will be supplemented by resident fees, state and federal assistance funds, and charitable contributions.
- ❖ InDwellings is requesting all PC(USA) churches of the Foothills Presbytery to consider a 3-year pledge to this local missions ministry, in addition to support from individual donors across the Upstate, private foundations and governmental grant sources.
- ❖ Commemorative naming opportunities are available.
- ❖ Allen L. Freeman of Freeman and Major Architects has been selected as the architect in collaboration with our builder, Trehel Corp.

If you have any questions or wish to make a contribution or pledge, contact board president Charles Blakely at 864-947-4103, cblakely@hughes.net, or visit the InDwellings website.

www.indwellings.org

InDwellings, Inc.
c/o Foothills Presbytery
2242 Woodruff Road
Simpsonville, SC 29681

Building
Homes
Of Love

www.indwellings.org

InDwellings, Inc.
c/o Foothills Presbytery
2242 Woodruff Road
Simpsonville, SC 29681

Building
Homes
Of Love